

Has my co-parent signed up yet?

We frequently get asked if a co-parent has signed up yet. You can determine this one of two ways. When your co-parent begins using ourfamilywizard.com, the last viewed information will start reflecting their activity. You can view this information in the lower left hand margin of each page. It will show the last time they logged in and looked at each page.

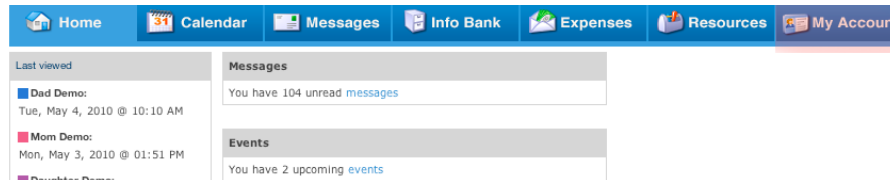

A screenshot of the 'Last viewed' section in the user interface. It lists the last viewed activity for several users:

- Dad Demo: Wed, May 5, 2010 @ 07:06 AM
- Mom Demo: Tue, May 4, 2010 @ 12:08 PM
- Daughter Demo: never
- Son Demo: Fri, Nov 9, 2007 @ 08:53 AM
- xys asd: never

At the bottom, it states: 'The current time is Wed, May 5, 2010 @ 07:20 AM'.

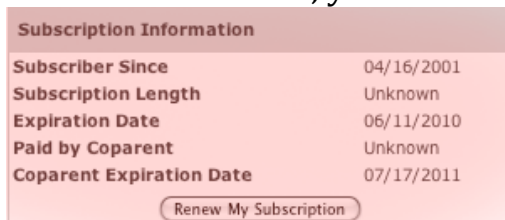

However, since we allow each user two grace logins prior to activation, they can access the site prior to subscribing. You can also find your co-parent's subscription information along with your own in the "my account" section.

A screenshot of the 'My Account' section in the user interface. The navigation bar includes: Home, Calendar, Messages, Info Bank, Expenses, Resources, and My Account. Below the navigation bar, there are two sections:

- Last viewed: Lists the last viewed activity for Dad Demo (Tue, May 4, 2010 @ 10:10 AM), Mom Demo (Mon, May 3, 2010 @ 01:51 PM), and Daughter Demo.
- Messages: You have 104 unread messages.
- Events: You have 2 upcoming events.

In the "my account" section you will notice a field that contains your subscription information. It tells you when you initially subscribed as well as your expiration date. It will also tell you if your co-parent subscribed but looking at your co-parent's expiration date. When that date is in the future, you know they have subscribed.
